

APhA Immunization Update 2007 Minimize potential liability – keep pharmacists current Nearly every state now regulates the administration of vaccines by pharmacists, and many require pharmacists to receive specific training to immunize customers.

APhA Immunization Update 2007 may satisfy specific state training.

This online course keeps pharmacists and staff current on:

- The administration of and reimbursement for vaccinations under Medicare Parts B and D
- Immunization schedules for children and adults, including the role of recently approved vaccines
- Obstacles that prevent the best use of existing vaccines and ways to overcome those obstacles
- Recording immunizations - date administered, vaccine manufacturer and lot number, title and other required information

APhA Immunization Update 2007, developed by APhA in partnership with LearnSomething, is authored by Stephan Foster, Pharm.D., who is nationally recognized in the field of immunization.

His notable positions include:

- Liaison representative on the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention for APhA
- Member of the advisory panel and a national faculty with APhA's Immunization Delivery Certificate Program
- Associate Professor and Vice Chair for Community Programs at the University of Tennessee

The LearnSomething System – Deliver. Track. Comply.

Deliver this course and track employee completion via your LearnSomething System to create an easy and economical solution that minimizes your potential liability.

For more information, please contact:
sales@learnsomething.com

LearnSomething Inc.
2457 Care Drive • Tallahassee, FL 32308
Ph: 850.385.7915 • Fax: 850.385.7964
www.learnsomething.com

